现场图像	 The first photograph shows the exterior of the factory building, which has a green awning over the entrance. A red truck is parked in front of the entrance. The second photograph shows the interior of the factory, which is a large industrial space with high ceilings and large windows. Several workers are visible, and there are large green machines and workbenches. One worker is standing and looking towards the camera, while another is bent over a workbench, possibly working on a part.
